Submarine Problem and Four-Power Treaty Share Attention of Delegates

POWERS CONTINUE UNWILLING TO GIVE UP UNDERSEA CRAFT

Three-Hour Triangular Debate on Subject Ends Without Change of Status

Declares in Formal Statement Dispute Over Pacific Treaty Is Unimportant

(By the Associated Press).

Washington, Dec. 23.—The submarine problem and the new four-power treaty, the one constituting the unfinished business of the arms conference and the other attracting increasing interest because of the difference in view between President Harding and the American delegation, tonight divided the attention of the plenipotentiaries assembled in Washington.

New prominence was given the treaty discussion during the day by a public statement by the President, characterizing the differences over interpretation of the pact "unimportant" declaring the American delegates had the "full confidence" of the White House.

Mr. Harding added that the treaty contemplated no "alliance or entente," and asked that lesser questions of difference be not permitted to obstruct the central purpose of the agreement to preserve peace and provide means for friendly consultation as a method of settling international controversies.

With the arms conference proper, the day's only session was devoted to a continuation of the debate over the submarine proposal to abolish the same. The discussion was not finished and the conference, giving up plans for an extended Christmas recess, will meet again tomorrow to continue the debate.

Auxiliary Tonnage in Absentia.
In an intermittent discussion of the question of auxiliary tonnage, which remains in absentia, delegates met that additional tonnage "one" the subject reached the plenipotentiaries today from Paris. The French have taken the position that the auxiliary tonnage should be included in the total tonnage of the submarine, but the British position on auxiliary tonnage by declaring no limitation on auxiliary tonnage could be added to the total tonnage of the submarine.

In reply to the British proposal, however, Admiral de Bon, chief of the French delegation, said the conference was not to discuss the question of auxiliary tonnage by declaring no limitation on auxiliary tonnage could be added to the total tonnage of the submarine.

Future Conference suggested.
The day's only session was devoted to a continuation of the debate over the submarine proposal to abolish the same. The discussion was not finished and the conference, giving up plans for an extended Christmas recess, will meet again tomorrow to continue the debate.

Three-Hour Triangular Debate on Submarines.
By the Associated Press.
Washington, Dec. 23.—A three-hour triangular debate on submarines was held tonight in the naval committee of the Washington conference. Admiral de Bon of France, Arthur J. Balfour of the British group, and Senator Schanzler of Italy being the only participants. The official communiqué issued by the committee stated that no action was taken, although Admiral de Bon declared the conference could not "reasonably" be adjourned until tomorrow.

For the British, Mr. Balfour reiterated his demand for total abolition of submarines. He admitted, however, that "the British Empire has the hope of getting any limitation upon the number of submarines in the course of this conference."

"To completely trust our debates," he said, "beyond the limits of this room is even a public session."

"Technical Difference of Opinion."
Senator Schanzler insisted that the conference was "confronted by a substantially technical difference of opinion" as to the defensive value of submarines. The Italian delegation, who had previously been "examined" subsequently in a wider conference," he said, before any action toward abolition of underwater craft could be undertaken.

"For the present," Senator Schanzler added, "one point is clear in our minds, and that is that the best course would be to follow even in this case the spirit of the American proposal and consequently to limit submarines to the measures strictly necessary for the ends of a purely defensive naval policy."

Admiral de Bon took exception to a portion of Mr. Balfour's remarks which the French officer regarded as implying to him a desire to support the theory that submarines had a right to destroy merchant vessels after saving the crews. Neither he nor the French government held that view, he said.

Mr. Balfour replied that he had not intended to "misrepresent Admiral de Bon," but had attempted to show that if the submarine was to play the "great role in future wars which Admiral de Bon has suggested, in his speech, it could only do so by resort to extreme methods, for it was futile to suppose that submarines would make a practice of stopping merchant ships and placing prize crews on board to take them into port."

Capital Ratio Definitely Accepted.
Paris, Dec. 23.—Premier Briand has sent Ambassador Jusserand in Washington a final and definite acceptance of the capital ship ratio.

France, however, it is stated, maintains her position regarding submarines and coast defense ships, although she is willing to negotiate.

France insists that her demands are vitally necessary to her security, it is indicated, but is disposed to co-operate with the United States as far as possible.

Washington, Dec. 23.—The text of the communication sent by Secretary Hughes to Premier Briand in acknowledgment of the receipt of M. Briand's message of December 18, in which the premier announced acceptance of the American capital ship ratio plan, was made public today by the state department. It follows:

"My dear Mr. Briand:
"M. Jusserand has handed me your message and I am highly gratified at your prompt response which again evinces your deep interest in our efforts to reduce the burden of naval armaments. I trust that we may make still further progress until a satisfactory settlement is assured upon all points."

"Allow me again to express my most cordial appreciation of your cooperation and the assurance of my highest esteem."
"Charles E. Hughes."

HARDING SAYS DIFFERENCES OVER PACT ARE UNIMPORTANT

Washington, Dec. 23.—President Harding, in a formal statement, today declared that the differences of interpretation which have arisen over the four-power Pacific treaty are to him "unimportant."

Declaring that an unjustified effort had been made to magnify his differences of view with the American delegates regarding the treaty, the President asserted that he was "more than satisfied" with the work of the plenipotentiaries and that they had his full confidence.

The President's statement, which was delivered orally and then formally given out, follows:

"The President will offer no comment on disputes which attempt to magnify the differing constructions of the four-power treaty. To him these things are unimportant. The big things aimed at are understanding for peace and an agreement to meet and discuss the preservation of peace whenever it is threatened."

"No alliance or entanglement is thought of, none will be negotiated. It would be better to rejoice over things accomplished than to dwell on differing views which can be of no great consequence."

"The President is unwilling that the unjustified charge that the United States delegates are withholding information shall go unchallenged. He had full confidence else he had not chosen them, and he has full confidence now and in more than great things they are doing, because they are working out the greatest contribution to peace and good will which has ever marked the Christmas-time in all the Christian era."

"It is one thing to talk about the ideals of peace, but the bigger thing is to seek the actuality. This the conference is doing, in harmony with an overwhelming American sentiment and a world sentiment, too, and in full accord with cherished American traditions."

New Brunswick, N. J., Dec. 23.—Aroused by the cruel death of five-year-old Tessie Kucharski, whose mutilated body was found today packed in a suitcase at the Hotel Albany, a group of angry men tonight were searching for George Garris, a carpenter with whom the police charge, the child was last seen alive. The crime has aroused the bitterest of feelings, and threats of violence were being openly made should Garris fall into the hands of his pursuers.

An autopsy revealed that the child had been strangled with a piece of bed ticking, with which her assailant had tied her head and heels together.

The police were informed by the mother last night of her daughter's disappearance and an investigation disclosed that the child had been seen yesterday in the bar room of the Belmont hotel with a man who was a stranger in the place. Her parents, both of whom have had difficulties with the police, own the hotel.

The crime was discovered early today by the proprietor of the Albany hotel, a few blocks from the Belmont, who went to a towel closet and stumbled over the suitcase. He told the police that the man now sought had brought the child to the hotel and had registered, explaining that the youngster was his grandchild.

HYLAN IGNORES COURT THREAT

Signs 1922 Budget Despite Appellate Order to Restore Three Million Dollars

New York, Dec. 23.—Mayor Hylan signed the 1922 city budget of $350,000,000 today, despite an order of the appellate division of the supreme court, issued yesterday, which required him and other members of the board of estimate to restore to it approximately $3,000,000 alleged to have been deducted illegally from the police and other pension funds.

It was stated that an appeal from the appellate division ruling would be taken to the court of appeals at Albany. This, city officials thought, would save the mayor and other members of the board of estimate from the possibility of contempt of court proceedings for ignoring the appellate division order to restore the deducted items by December 25.

After Mayor Hylan had signed the budget, it was sent to Comptroller Craig's office for the signature of Acting Comptroller Smith. Mr. Craig is in Canada on a hunting trip.

Mr. Smith, commenting that he seemed to be facing criminal action if he failed to sign by December 25, and contempt of court proceedings if he would pursue. His statement that he would "let nature take its course," however, was interpreted as meaning he would sign.

MURDERER OF AUTO SALESMAN TO DIE

Harvey Church Found Guilty of Killing Pair Who Sold Him Car

Chicago, Dec. 23.—Harvey Church, charged with the murder of two automobile salesmen, was found guilty this morning and sentenced to death.

Church killed Carl Ausmus and Bernard Daugherty when they delivered a car which he had arranged to buy. The jury, which went out last night, was unanimous for the death penalty on the first ballot.

Church, who is 21 years old, was arrested at Adams, Wis., his old home, a few days after the double slaying. The body of Ausmus was dug up under the floor of the garage at the church home here. Daugherty's body, with hand and foot bound with ropes, was found later in the Desplaines river.

Church, according to police, confessed how he had arranged to buy a $5,000 automobile from the salesman, and then killed them in the basement of his home when they delivered the machine, and disposed of their bodies. His confessions, however, were not introduced at the trial.

The defense rested entirely on an insanity plea. He was tried for the killing of Ausmus, the indictment in the Daugherty case being held in reserve.

GUARDSMEN ORDERED TO KENTUCKY STRIKE ZONE

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 23.—Four companies of Kentucky National Guardsmen tonight were ordered to Newport, Ky., by Governor Morrow as a result of a strike at the Newport rolling mills. They are due to arrive in Newport early tomorrow.

Three other companies have been ordered held in readiness to proceed to Newport if needed, Governor Morrow said in announcing the sending of troops.

The troops were sent to Newport by the governor on his own initiative. Some of the local peace officers had asked for them, but reports from private investigators, the governor said, indicated that the peace officers could not handle the situation.

SOCIALISM IN RUSSIA FAILS

"We Have Suffered a Powerful Defeat and Commenced a Retreat," Lenin Declares

ADOPT NEW POLICY

Freedom of Trade Restored and Labor Compensated for Service Rendered

Washington, Dec. 23.—Abandonment of Socialism in Russia is predicted by recent changes in the economic policy of the Soviet government, according to a review of the situation in that country on the basis of statements in the Soviet-controlled press issued tonight by the commerce department.

A new economic policy, the department said, is being evolved by the Bolshevik leaders, aiming at the partial reestablishment of private trade and industry and at increasing the incentive to production. Communal management of industry in Russia, it added, has resulted in a great decline of production and a general disorganization of economic life which have been commented upon emphatically by Soviet newspapers, while the decline is admitted by Bolshevik leaders.

Lenin, in a speech in Moscow, recognizes the defeat of Communism, according to the department, and is quoted as saying:

"Suffered Powerful Defeat."
"The substance of our new economic policy is dictated by the recognition of the fact that we have suffered a powerful defeat and commenced a systematic strategic retreat. There can be no doubt in the minds of the Communists that we have suffered defeat on the economic front, and a crushing defeat, and thus we are facing consciously and deliberately the new economic policy."

The main features of this new policy, the department reported, include the partial restoration of freedom of trade in agricultural products, abandonment of the practice of unrestricted requisition of labor, and the substitution of a fixed labor tax; abandonment of uniform wages for employees of the same grade in enterprises operated by the state, and the substitution of compensation according to the service rendered; leasing to private individuals of certain industrial establishments hitherto controlled by the state. Enterprises still operated by the state are to adopt commercial principles, paying private producers and other state enterprises market value for materials and selling their products at market value.

Bolshevik newspapers maintain, the department continued, that beneficial effects have already followed the change of policy with respect to compensation of labor.

HAPPY CHRISTMAS FOR MANY ALIENS

Gates of Ellis Island Swing Open to Thousand Persons Held Under Quota Law

New York, Dec. 23.—The gates of Ellis Island swung open today, bringing more than 1,000 aliens, detained under the immigration quota law, so that they might spend Christmas with friends and relatives in the Land of Promise.

They were held in custody for 30 days under an order issued in Washington today by Secretary of Labor Davis, but must return at the end of that time for deportation, unless permitted to remain on the constitutionality of the restrictive law have borne fruit, or the government decides to make more exceptions in their cases.

The order arrived shortly after 3 o'clock and two hours later 200 of the aliens had packed their belongings and left the island. Others delayed until midnight all the while at the immigration station waiting late to help the aliens get away.

Immigration Commissioner Todd said all of them would be released by tomorrow evening.

The chief findings from Washington came so unexpectedly that the delight of the aliens became almost a frenzy.

Each was released on his or her own bond, all agreeing to make arrangements for passage to their home at the end of the 90-day stay or American soil.

GREENLEAF RETAINS POCKET BILLIARD CHAMPIONSHIP

New York, Dec. 23.—Halph Greenleaf, pocket billiard champion, retained his title tonight by defeating Arthur Woods of Minneapolis in a score of 150 to 77.

The match was played in three blocks of 150 points each. In the final block tonight, Greenleaf sent a total of 145 balls to the pockets while Woods was dropping 55.

BORDER CHRISTMAS TREES: New York, Dec. 23.—Christmas tree dealers were surprised today to find bottles of liquor nestled in the branches of trees shipped from a point near the Canadian border.

The discovery, the retailers said, may explain why wholesalers showed reluctance to distribute the trees when they arrived last night and doted them only after loud clamors by the dealers.

Prohibition inspectors, however, had heard nothing of the new hoisting of a head today.

Debs and 23 Other War Offenders Are Granted Freedom

Receive Commutations of Sentences, Effective Christmas Day, From President

Pardon Soldiers

Five Men of Rhine Army Were Serving Life Terms for Death of British Officer

Washington, Dec. 23.—Eugene V. Debs former Socialist candidate for president, serving a sentence of ten years at Atlanta penitentiary for violating the espionage act, and 23 other persons convicted on various charges of hindering the government during the war, received today from President Harding commutation of sentences to become effective Christmas Day.

At the same time, five former American soldiers serving life sentences pronounced by a military court for the murder of a former British officer while serving with the American army on the Rhine, received full pardons, effective Christmas Day.

The action was taken after the department of justice had studied separately the cases of 193 persons receiving sentences for violating the wartime laws and after Attorney General Daugherty had discussed the situation with President Harding, who was said to be desirous, if possible, of granting some pardons for Christmas.

The commutations, it was explained, do not operate to restore citizenship lost by the felony convictions, but the pardons do. Several of the civilian offenders will be deported to the

No comment was made by the President on the case of Debs. The President and the attorney general had given very extended consideration to the Debs petition and it is known that the fact that he had twice been the presidential nominee of a million of voters had its influence in reaching a decision favorable to his release.

"The President expressed the wish that it might be stated that the grant of clemency in the cases acted upon does not question the justice of any action of the courts in enforcing the laws in a time of national peril, but he feels the ends of justice have been fairly met in view of the changed conditions. The vast majority of so-called political prisoners still imprisoned are the I. W. W. group, not really American citizens and have no good claim to executive clemency. A number of convicted citizens have never been imprisoned, owing to appeal under bond. There are also many thousands of indigent under war legislation still pending. These do not come under executive consideration."

Further Facts on Debs.
A supplementary White House statement on the Debs case further amplified the view taken by the president.

"There is no question of his guilt and that he actively and purposefully obstructed the draft," this statement said. "In fact, he admitted it at the trial but sought to justify his action. He was by no means, however, a rabid and outspoken in his expressions as many others, and but for his prominence and the resulting far-reaching effect of his words, very probably might not have received the clemency he did. He is an old man, not strong physically. He is a man of much personal charm and impressive personality which qualifications make him a dangerous man, calculated to mislead the unthinking and affording cause for those with criminal intent."

Five Soldiers Pardoned.
The five soldiers given full pardons are Carl E. Hagan, James A. O'Dell, Frank Woodhouse, George Vandenberg, and J. L. Richardson, all serving life terms, to which they were sentenced while with the American army on the Rhine.

Announcement of the action taken was made personally by President Harding late today.

MUCH COLDER WEATHER IS FORECAST FOR CHRISTMAS

Washington, Dec. 23.—Generally, and much colder weather will prevail Christmas day in the northern half of the Mississippi river, except perhaps for snow during the portions of the lower lake region and the extreme Upper Ohio valley, the weather bureau said in a special forecast tonight.

General precipitation is expected in the eastern states tomorrow, but will be followed generally by clearing and much colder weather Sunday.

MUSTARD GAS VS. REPTILES.

New York, Dec. 23.—Several top headquarters at Governors Island today received from Russia, Wash., details of an experiment conducted by the department of agriculture to rid the state of venomous reptiles by means of mustard gas.

The gas was hoisted into a bed of lava rock, which previously had proved an impenetrable fortress for rattlesnakes. Soon appeared snakes hanging from lava a few inches long to bull rattlesnakes nine feet in length. Dazed and blinded, they soon were clubbed to death.

GEORGE WHITE BURNED.

Marion, Ohio, Dec. 23.—George White, former chairman of the Democratic national committee, was partially burned in an explosion of gas at a well at Noble county yesterday. The injuries are not serious, it was said today by his physician.

Score Reported Injured When Storm Sweeps Through Farming Settlements

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 23.—A storm, which has been killed and apparently injured a score, struck the town of Clarkdale, Ark. 17 miles north of Memphis, and swept through farming settlements.

Payne Harrison, clerk in a general merchandise store at Clarkdale, which was demolished, was the only person known to have been killed. A woman, whose home was about a mile from Clarkdale, was blown from its foundations, was among the injured.

Twelve of the injured, all negroes, were brought to Memphis hospitals tonight. They were caught under falling timbers and many were in a store in which they had taken refuge when a rain storm, collapsed.

Telephone and telegraph wires throughout the area swept by the storm were leveled and only meager reports have been received from outlying sections.

In addition to the eight persons reported killed in the immediate vicinity of Clarkdale, unconfirmed reports were that several persons were missing and believed to be dead on plantations west of Clarkdale.

Chief, for the alleged killing of George Lane, a former British officer.

Among those whose sentences were commuted were:

Charles Ashbaugh, a former news paper man and a writer of poetry, who was convicted of espionage act and given a ten-year sentence. His sentence was commuted upon his agreement to accept deportation to England the country of his nativity.

Orville Anderson, convicted at Deadwood S. D. October 2, 1918, under the espionage law and sentenced to five years for espionage act, on which he had served two years.

Charles E. Hughes, convicted at Oklahoma City and sentenced to six years for violation of the espionage act.

John H. Kennedy, Los Angeles, Cal., sentenced to ten years for attempting to cause insubordination and refusal of duty among selective service men.

Jack Law, convicted at Chicago for violating the espionage act and sentenced to ten years.

Opposed U. S. Cause.
"The list in the main," said an executive statement given out at the White House, "is made up of those who opposed the war in one way or another, and it is made up of less than a third of I. W. W. prisoners, and these have either expressed full penitence or are booked for deportation. The department of justice has given no recommendation in behalf of the advocates of sabotage or the destruction of government by force, and the President let it be known he would not consider such cases. In addition to the five soldiers on the list many other cases are under consideration."

No comment was made by the President on the case of Debs. The President and the attorney general had given very extended consideration to the Debs petition and it is known that the fact that he had twice been the presidential nominee of a million of voters had its influence in reaching a decision favorable to his release.

Money Market Interposes No Restraint; Trading Confined to Usual Favorites

New York, Dec. 23.—Apart from the conflicting movements of a few speculative leaders, today's session of the stock exchange was the dullest and most uneventful in several weeks.

The money market interposed no restraints, rates for call money easing perceptibly. Renewals over Christmas were made at five per cent, although the opening quotation was slightly higher.

The trading element confined its operations to the usual favorites of the old equipment, motor, copper and miscellaneous divisions.

Recent selling to establish income tax returns was not resumed to any extent but a few stocks in the railroad group, especially Chicago & Northwestern, were depressed to levels approximating lowest prices of the year.

Circumstantial rumors of mergers helped to sustain interest in equipments and copper, especially American Locomotive. The financial standing of various steel and motor companies, however, added to the reactionary tone of those issues.

Business in foreign exchanges was at low ebb and irregular.

Mixed conditions attended the smaller trading in bonds. Liberty issues made further recoveries, and French municipals also rallied modestly. Bulk sales, however, Southern Pacific, Seaboard Air Line, Baltimore & Ohio and Erie underlying bonds reacting.

COLLISION ON FRANKLIN ROAD.

Little Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Upright Receives Serious Cuts.

Franklin, Dec. 23.—Mr. and Mrs. Bert Upright and daughter, the latter of about eight years, were on their way this forenoon from their home in Sidney to Franklin and were approaching this village, when their car met a truck driven by Jay Darling in a head-on collision. The little girl was thrown through the windshield of her father's car and quite severely cut about the face. Dr. White of Unadilla was summoned to the home of John Rathrop, where the child had been taken, and attended to her injuries. Several stitches being required to close a long cut extending from her mouth well toward her left ear. Neither Mr. or Mrs. Upright received any serious injury.

The car, which was an Overland, was quite badly damaged, but was able to return under its own power. The collision was due to the fact that snow and ice had so collected on the windshield that it was impossible for Mr. Upright to see the approaching car.

Events of Current Interest Told in Brief Space for Our Readers.

The Cobleskill public library, organized less than a year ago, now has 2,000 volumes on its shelves and 970 regular patrons. The average number of books loaned per month is 1,450.

A committee of three has been appointed by Supervisor Nelson of Fulton to erect a suitable marker at some designated point on the state highway to indicate the location of the Upper Schcharie fort.

Wayne, the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Kniskern of Cobleskill, accompanied by his mother, attended the infantile paralysis clinic held at the Oneonta hospital under the supervision of Dr. Hubbard, state orthopedic specialist, and Miss Kenney, state health department nurse. Wayne was a victim of the disease last summer and nearly lost the entire use of his left arm. He is regaining its use slowly and was assured at the clinic that six months' time would restore it to normal condition.

Congressman Ward has asked the appointment of Mrs. Ella Taber as postmistress at Richmondville.

Two old cronies in Shelbyville, aged 76 and 72 years respectively, committed suicide a short time ago. They were both retired farmers and they found the inertia of village life tiresome.

The Binghamton Light & Power company complains that the many amateur wireless outfits in that city dim the house lights in various sections by sapping the voltage from the domestic lighting currents when they are tuned up. The dimming of lights is particularly noticeable in the early hours of the night, when the operators all over the city tune their instruments to receive the messages.

The current number of the Yale Review contains an article of peculiar interest to people in this county. It is made up of a series of hitherto unpublished letters by James Fenimore Cooper, the author, to friends in this county. The letters were written mostly from abroad and are edited by James Fenimore Cooper of Cooperstown and Albany. Mr. Cooper says in his introduction that the letters were written during the six happiest years of his grandfather's life.

The Salvation army of Binghamton will supply Christmas dinner to 300 families, for each of which a basket will be provided, of dimensions corresponding to the size of the family. A little over $1,500 has been raised. The Humane society of that city will also send out 600 baskets of an estimated value of $7.15 each.

Rev. C. H. Donaldson, pastor of the Baptist church at West Winfield, has handed in his resignation, effective January 1. He goes to Massillon, Ohio, where a larger church and wider opportunities await him.

The local court at Little Falls is properly sympathetic. Last week a man was arrested for picking coal along the West Shore tracks and on being taken before the police justice he stated that his wife was sick in bed, that they had five children and not a bit of coal in the house and that he gathered it to cook their breakfast. Sentence was suspended and the Red Cross took the matter up and provided food and fuel and a job.

The eagle surmounted by a flag which was formerly the property of Hunt post of Holland Patent has been presented to the Leon Roberts post of the American legion, a step which suggests the proper disposition of Grand Army archives as one by one the posts of the country cease to exist from lack of membership.

WOMAN RAISES DOGS

Mrs. Moses Has Farm Which Produces Malamutes.

Mrs. Mary Moses of Skagway, Alaska, conducts a dog farm, her specialty being Eskimo malamutes, which she breeds and trains for the market. This market is not very large, but it is sufficient to enable her to get a good living from her efforts. It is not the food nor the watchdog adventurer who wishes a team of dogs trained for the wintry trails of ice and snow of the interior.

If a hunter decides to make a journey to far regions or a trapper desires to operate a longer line of traps than usual, Mrs. Moses can be depended upon to supply just the sort of dogs desired.

The difficulty with ordinary Indian trained dogs is that they do not understand commands in English. For winter trips dogs are needed that will obey orders given by a white man. It is this kind of malinutes that Mrs. Moses has been supplying to demand for years. When she gets through with the education of a Moses trained dog it is not nearly so ferocious as one brought up in an Indian village. She feeds pemican and dried fish to her dogs.

In the last twenty years she has supplied dog teams for explorers, mail carriers, boundary markers, trappers, motion picture companies, and one one occasion furnished the dogs that made a round trip to the Arctic barrens.

Trained mushers are worth from $100 to $200 each.

THE DAY BEFORE CHRISTMAS.

Since this is the day before Christmas, it is naturally the day on which we have our Christmas dinner. When the food is served, the guests are seated at the table, and the dinner is served. The day before Christmas is a day of great importance, and it is a day when we should be thinking of the children. There are many children in the world who are hungry and who are in need of food. We should be thinking of these children and trying to help them. We should be thinking of the children who are in need of clothing and who are in need of shelter. We should be thinking of the children who are in need of love and who are in need of a home. We should be thinking of the children who are in need of a father and who are in need of a mother. We should be thinking of the children who are in need of a friend and who are in need of a companion. We should be thinking of the children who are in need of a teacher and who are in need of a guide. We should be thinking of the children who are in need of a friend and who are in need of a companion. We should be thinking of the children who are in need of a teacher and who are in need of a guide.

These are the things that we should be thinking of on the day before Christmas. We should be thinking of the children who are in need of food and who are in need of clothing. We should be thinking of the children who are in need of shelter and who are in need of love. We should be thinking of the children who are in need of a home and who are in need of a father. We should be thinking of the children who are in need of a mother and who are in need of a friend. We should be thinking of the children who are in need of a companion and who are in need of a teacher. We should be thinking of the children who are in need of a guide and who are in need of a friend. We should be thinking of the children who are in need of a companion and who are in need of a teacher. We should be thinking of the children who are in need of a guide and who are in need of a friend.

There is also the work of the Salvation Army, and this is a religious undertaking. For the past weeks the kettles on the street corners have been familiar sights, and the ringing of bells has made persistent appeal, though there is a chance that in the hurry of Christmas shopping, and the distraction of the night and sound has been regarded. If this is so, there is still time to give, and this with full assurance that every nickel, dime or dollar which drops into the kettle will be accounted for and every cent of it expended for the good of the poor and of those of whom Christ entreated that we should remember. Surely there is opportunity yet to give something for the Salvation Army, or if we have once given, to give again.

These things are for humanity at large and for the children and the unfortunate in our community. Another purpose to which it is manifest duty to give is for the anti-tuberculosis movement—for the eradication of the White Plague. To many the Christmas seals have been sent with request that the recipient remit to the committee in charge such sums at least as are indicated by the number of stamps sent. Many have responded liberally to this appeal; by others it may have been forgotten, and still others may have been overlooked in sending out the seals. If the appeal of the Christmas seal has not yet been met, there surely is something which in the midst of the season's giving has not had due attention.

And another thing. There are in every community some to whom the season of Christmas brings little of cheer save through the kindness of friends. Aged, or feeble, or poor, or childless or otherwise bereft, they come in the last days to a pathetic condition which every one recognizes, and which doubtless the few of us to whom all else is given, these we have always with us, and surely they should not be forgotten. The human need is not always of money; there may be those who are starving as much for sympathy as for food, or for the friendly words of the neighbors. None of these with their own offering also for lack of previous contributions should be overlooked on this season of giving.

To feed the hungry, to care for the children, to heal the sick of body or of mind and heart, surely these are the things which we are expected to do which would follow in the footsteps of the Great Exemplar. Whether we have actually done these or not, which every one of us may well ask himself on this day before Christmas.

Was Claus' New Car.
Among the many elaborate holiday window displays of local merchants, one of the most attractive is that of the Francis Motor Sales company. The feature of the display in the window of this Elm street store is a rugged-looking automobile of the latest model, driven by Santa Claus and projecting from the opening of a huge fireplace built across the back of the window. The figure of the old man, carrying a sack of gifts, is the center of the display. The idea is unique and features to the up-to-date methods of the local storekeepers.

No Trace of Telephone Robbers.
Although the local police have been working diligently on the case in conjunction with D. & H. detectives, no trace has been found of the persons who robbed the telephone pay station at the Union station Wednesday night or early Thursday morning. The authorities have some clues, however, and are hopeful that they will soon take the miscreants into custody.

Get Her a Maytag for Christmas

You Owe It to Her to Get Her a MAYTAG

It will indeed be a Merry Christmas for the woman who receives a Maytag washer from Santa Claus. And every new year will be a happier one because this washer will give her more time and more reason to be happy.

This is a sensible gift which, every week, will save the hardest work a woman has to do. She will be especially pleased if it is a MAYTAG.

Casting Gloom Over Matrimony.

Presently a wife who was thrown from an automobile because of the faulty driving of her husband sought to sue him for the damages she sustained. The court informed her that it could not be done. Clumsy or not, the court held, the husband was well within his rights in upsetting the car that contained her. A suit against him would not lie.

There is truly a deplorable state of affairs. The statisticians insist that the wife is doomed to unhappiness. Yet to her distress justice is deaf as well as blind. Either she must resolve to endure it all or quit. Only one remedy suggests itself, and that is picking the sort of husband with whom she can really live happily ever after. But that, alas! would throw all our modern novelists out of employment. —New York Tribune

Senators Have Their Work Cut Out.

Some People Are at Home.

A man living in a Western city of 500,000 people has figured out the fact that all of the theatres in the entire community won't hold one-tenth, or 50,000 of these citizens. He included moving-picture houses in his estimate of the seating capacity of the theatres. Then he collected statistics relating to the dance-halls and discovered that they won't accommodate more than 10,000. He submits these figures to prove that folks today are not all spending their time away from their homes. His figures are interesting but unnecessary.

The Treaty Mishap.

The whole incident is absolutely without precedent. It is bound to have an unfortunate effect on the prestige of the administration. Foreign diplomats rubbed their eyes with incredulity when they heard that the President was calmly interpreting the treaty in a different way from his secretary of state. Everybody seems to be partly to blame—Senator Lodge for not explaining the full bearing of the treaty in his speech about it. Secretary Hughes for having advised his chief as to all its bearing. President Harding himself for having put his foot in it by giving publicity to his own views without apparently realizing that they were in direct opposition to those of the American delegation. —New York Evening Post

Get Her a Maytag for Christmas

You Owe It to Her to Get Her a MAYTAG

It will indeed be a Merry Christmas for the woman who receives a Maytag washer from Santa Claus. And every new year will be a happier one because this washer will give her more time and more reason to be happy.

This is a sensible gift which, every week, will save the hardest work a woman has to do. She will be especially pleased if it is a MAYTAG.

SCENE FROM WALTER SCANLAN IN HUSH EYES, COMING TO HATHAWAY'S ONEONTA THEATRE THUR. EVE., DEC. 29TH.

DELIGHTFUL ENTERTAINMENT

Members of Tithers' Association and Seventy Little Folk Dinner Guests Last Night of Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Dauley.

The members of the Tithers' association of the First Methodist Episcopal society of Oneonta were entertained at a Christmas dinner last evening in the church parlors, the host and hostess being Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Dauley.

Through the Tithers' association Santa Claus had been busy for weeks among a group of little boys and girls in the city, trying to find out what each most desired for Christmas. Last evening Santa sent automobiles to each home and brought these little friends to the church parlors, where between sixty and seventy of the 'spiciest and sparest' children in the city sat down in a body surrounded by the members of the Tithers' association, and all jointly enjoyed a most delectable Christmas dinner.

After all had fully satisfied the inner man, and woman, Santa Claus appeared in person and distributed the gifts from a well-laden Christmas tree, which had been previously arranged. Each of the little guests received liberal packages of candy, nuts, etc., and after this feature of all in attendance. Moreover, it would not be unreasonable to guess that it was the hope of each little participant that Santa Claus might arrange with the Tithers' association of the Methodist church to repeat the entertainment year after year; and this surely would be no less true regarding the members of the association, who last evening to the fullest extent realized the blessedness of giving.

Attention of Ella Adams.
The following telegraph message has been received by the police department from Lordville, N. Y.: "Can you locate Ella Adams your city informing her Wallace Adams is dead?" (Signed) Charles Dunham.

Chief Horton has so far been unable to locate the woman and has resorted to the publication of this item in the hope that it come to her attention or to that of persons knowing her whereabouts. Such persons are asked to communicate with the police department.

THE PYRAMIDS

A GROUP of mounds, about seventy in number, located in southwestern Illinois, not a great distance from St. Louis, comprise what is said to be the largest remaining work of the aborigines north of Old Mexico.

Whence came these Mound Builders, how long they remained and whither they went, history seems not to record. Scientists have failed to establish the definite period of time which their construction represents. That these mounds of prehistoric man directly connect us with a vanished people of whose history we know little or nothing there is, of course, no question.

It is thought by some that the so-called mounds of California, many of which are falling into decay, are as ancient as the pyramids of Egypt. The evidence of the fact that, years before modern civilization, this section was the seat of an empire of a most primitive race.

The greatest of these mounds is known, locally, as Monk's mound (legend has it that a colony of Trappist monks once lived upon it). It is more than 100 feet high, covers sixteen acres and, it is believed, must have required 3,000 men two years to build.

ENJOYABLE ENTERTAINMENT

Christmas Tree and Entertainment of A. M. E. Church Sunday School of High Merit—Church Doing Excellent Work.

An audience that taxed to capacity the Anna Memorial A. M. E. church at 14 Hunt street was privileged to witness last evening a Christmas entertainment of rare merit given by members of the church Sunday school. The exercises were under the supervision of the Sunday school superintendent, Mrs. Nettie Armstrong, and proved highly enjoyable not only to the participants but to those in attendance as well.

The program consisted of the reading of the Christmas story from St. Luke by Mrs. Armstrong, recitations by members of the school, and the singing of Christmas carols and songs appropriate to the season. Following the rendition of the program, gifts of candy, toys and useful articles were given to each child, from a beautifully decorated Christmas tree, electrically lighted through the generosity of C. C. Miller, who very kindly, donated the use of wiring and colored bulbs.

Brief remarks were made by the pastor, Mrs. J. E. Anderson, in the course of which she called attention to the improvements to the building during the past year. She also announced gifts of $50 for defraying the cost of the new floor, $20 for a new stove and general repairs, and $5 for repairs. The gifts were made by citizens not members of the congregation and for them and also for the interest displayed by many in the welfare of the church. Mrs. Armstrong voiced the sincere appreciation and thanks of the church members. The church has enjoyed a year of prosperity and meritorious work and there are hopes that 1922 will see still greater activity.

MISS HURLBUTT RESIGNS

Secretary for Many Years to Dr. Eugene at Normal School Will Make California Her Future Home.

Miss E. May Hurlbutt, secretary for many years to Dr. P. J. Eugene at the State Normal school, has tendered her resignation to take effect at once and will leave on Monday for Los Angeles to join her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hurlbutt, and other members of her family, who have been residents of California for several years.

Miss Hurlbutt's resignation was accepted with reluctance by Dr. Eugene, who feels that he is losing a very superior secretary and that the loss of an attaché whose long experience and personal attributes have made her situation will be without the services especially valuable. Miss Hurlbutt became Dr. Eugene's secretary 16 years ago and has since fulfilled in a most capable manner duties requiring not only extensive technical knowledge, but also personal qualities of a high order.

A resident of Oneonta for many years, Miss Hurlbutt will be missed by a wide circle of friends and acquaintances who will, nevertheless, wish her much good fortune in her future career in California, in which state she intends to reside permanently.

Dr. Eugene has not as yet selected her successor.

Mistletoe.
They tell me that the mistletoe, So dear to lad and lass, Bearer as Yuletides come and go, Seems shortly doomed to pass.

It falls as old-time uses fade Its usefulness gone by, What boy today awaits its aid? What happier now is shy?

Who'll sigh to see those berries go? Who'll have a tear to spill? Who'll pine without the mistletoe? I'll say the wallflowers will.

BIG GAME MONDAY NIGHT

Cooperstown Independents Will Meet Wanderers on Monday Night—Game of the Week—Company G Second Will Oppose Alphas.

It is expected that one of the hard-fought basketball games of the season will take place at the armory on Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock, when the Wanderers meet their opponents from Cooperstown—the Independents. Last year the boys from Cooperstown won two out of three games, and they are striving for a fourth sweep this year. The Wanderers, however, will not be caught napping on Monday evening and a game is assured. As a preliminary, the Company G second team will play the newly organized Alphas of this city.

Cooperstown's line-up will be practically the same as it has been in past years as far as the dopsters are concerned. Reed and Johnson will play as forwards, McMoon and Smith will work as guards, while Hamilton is the center of the center of the visitors. In Cooperstown some say it is Clark, while others believe it will be Cunningham, former state league player of Hudson, who is a big fellow with plenty of speed.

Manager Cronase of the "Wanderers" was non-committal yesterday when interviewed as to whom he would line up against the Hamilton Deacons, quite possible and will probably be used. This was Parks and very forwards, Thomas center, Diawey and Tansett guards. This line-up may be changed somewhat, however. At any rate, if we know the manager of the Wanderers, he will line up his men in such a manner as to give the visitors the hardest fighting possible.

On the whole, it looks as if this game would prove to be one of the best played locally. If the Wanderers were playing Cooperstown for the possession of the Otego Jakes, there would be no more energy injected into the game than there has been when these teams have met on previous occasions.

The first game between the Co. G second team and the Alphas will also prove an interesting contest, as both teams are well matched. The first game will be called at 7:30 and the Cooperstown-Wanderers game at 8:30.

IRISH EYES DEC. 29TH.

Walter Scanlan to Present Romantic Comedy at Oneonta Theatre.

In Walter Scanlan's new romantic comedy, "Irish Eyes," in which George M. Gains will present at the Oneonta theatre for one night only, Thursday, Dec. 29th, on his second annual tour, this young popular Irish singer and actor will appear as Dan O'Leary, a rollicking roving Irish lad who in a fit of pique left Ireland, leaving his blue-eyed sweetheart behind him and spurned his love for another. He was at the time merely a young fisherman on Galway Bay, Ireland, while she was the daughter of a wealthy aristocrat.

"Back was with the Irish" and Dan with his brother-in-law, John Brady, sailed a steam shortly after their arrival in America in the Golden West, which turned out to be a real bad and made them wealthy. Dan lost the day of his youth, love, and his sweetheart of youth, and how he wins her, after years, in America forms the working out of a story which is filled with romantic sentiment, comedy, hilarious situations, and a delightful element of mystery. Scanlan's new songs written for his use are reported to be real hits: "Maytime," "My Galway Rose," "The Road to My Love," "An Irish Song Will Live as Long as Life and Love Shall Last," "I Was a Fisherman in Love-Land," and "Kathleen."
